Course Description:  As a survey course of the history of events and ideas this will be an ambitious undertaking as we consider a diversity of Christianities in their historical, theological and ethical dimensions. Historically, we will sweep through the centuries and examine development and growth from the Apostolic Age in the ancient Near East, through the Middle Ages in Europe and to present day America. Theologically, we will study doctrinal teachings on God, Jesus of Nazareth, humanity, sin, redemption and the sacraments. Ethically, we will encounter a variety of issues that continue to challenge; war and peace, sexuality and marriage/same-sex marriage, economic justice, and the influence of Christianity on American politics.

 This syllabus is subject to change at the discretion of the instructor.
Attendance Policy:
Class attendance is vital to your success in this course, as well as to your ability to synthesize the reading material, engage in the public discourse of issues involved in the study of this complex tradition and generally, to the overall satisfactory completion of course requirements. Therefore, be advised that four absences will be allowed. Six or more absences may result in a lower final grade but MAY be excused with proper medical documentation. Eight absences will result in your being dropped from the class, which will earn you an F for the course. Please note that a memo from CofC Health Services does NOT automatically qualify as an ‘excused absence.’ Final determination of an excused absence always lies with the instructor.

SNAP: If you have a disability that qualifies you for academic accommodation, please present a letter from the Center for Disability Services at the beginning of the semester. For more information regarding accommodation and the SNAP program, see: http://www.cofc.edu/~cds/index.htm.

Honor Code: The Code of Honor found in the Student Handbook will be strictly enforced. Plagiarism and cheating will not be tolerated and WILL be reported to the Honor Board. According to the Student Handbook plagiarism includes but is not limited to:
* The verbatim repetition, without acknowledgement, of the writings of another author. All significant phrases, clauses, or passages, taken directly from source material must be enclosed in quotation marks and acknowledged either in the text itself or in footnotes/endnotes.
* Borrowing without acknowledging the source.
* Paraphrasing the thoughts of another writer without acknowledgement.
* Allowing any other person or organization to prepare work which one then submits as his/her own.

Classroom Code of Conduct
—Selections taken from the Student Handbook, published by the President’s Advisory Committee in cooperation with the Office of the President.
Your professor expects that you as a student:
1. Will be attentive and courteous during class.
2. Will complete the assigned work according to the course schedule.
3. Do not cut classes, come in late, or leave early. If you ever are late for class, enter in complete silence and do not walk between the class and the professor. Never leave during class unless you absolutely must. Leaving for a short break and then returning is not acceptable. The professor is not a TV set, but is a person addressing the class, and it is rude to leave when someone is addressing you.
4. Turn off cell phones, pagers, and all other electronic devices.
5. Visible and noisy signs of restlessness are rude as well as disruptive to others. If you cannot sit still or stay awake, you should not be taking a college class. Do not begin packing your book bag or otherwise indicate that you think it is time for class to come to an end; wait for the professor to dismiss class. If the class period has ended but the professor has not finished and you cannot stay any longer, leave in complete silence.
